Brand image and appearance are the prerequisites for successful products. Establishing successful brand image requires professional expertise and know-how, excellent cosmetic ingredients, along with strong standard packaging available on the market. Products that catch consumers' eyes and shout from the shelf allow marketing executives to concentrate on other aspects of their business ... take a look at the assortment of Cosmetipack to determine if your new image is just around the corner.

kb·cosmetipack is pleased to offer the international beauty market the opportunity to obtain design-oriented standard bottles, tottles, and jars with accompanying closures catering to the health and beauty industry.

kb·cosmetipack specializes in small quantities, from 1-10.000 pieces.

kb·cosmetipack provides standard packaging on call and ready to deliver.

kb·cosmetipack offers complete families of containers, available in white and natural.

kb·cosmetipack supplies label-friendly as well as printable containers.

kb·cosmetipack usage of a modular cap system allows for a multitude of unique looks.

kb·cosmetipack packaging personifies image, exclusivity and the ability to differentiate from your competitors.

Established in 2004 by Karena Bakic, kb·Cosmetipack maintains offices in Munich, Germany and warehousing capabilities in Bavaria, Germany.

Karena Bakic brings many years of experience within the cosmetic packaging sector and is a familiar face at international trade fairs for the cosmetic industry.

Marketing experience along with on-the-job training allow her to advise customers in packaging issues.

Previous work experience centers around fashion, advertising and television commercials.

Total fluency in English, German, and Italian, along with French capabilities allow Cosmetipack to service many countries. Cosmetipack works with local printing facilities throughout Germany. Packaging price quotes and sample mailings will be dealt with efficiently and speedily.

With cooperation from our customers, we aim to supply promptly and in a professional manner.
